

English Loan Words in Cebuano from Wolff (1972)

Compiled by Jessie Grace U. Rubrico, PhD
Language Links Foundation, Incorporated

The tendency of Filipino, the national lingua franca of the Philippines, to borrow heavily from English is not a new phenomenon in Philippine languages. John Wolff in his A Dictionary of Cebuano Visayan (1972) treated as main entries a number of English words which he respelled to conform with the Cebuano orthography, where he adopted the Bisayan three-vowel system --a, i, u.

Below is a listing of some of these words.
